Experience It! Keukenhof

Keukenhof – which means "kitchen garden" in Dutch and also called the "Garden of Europe" – is the world's largest flower garden. It is situated on former royal hunting grounds from the 15th-century and covers an area of 80 acres. The current park was envisioned by the local mayor and opened in 1949 as a place for gardeners to show off an array of hybrid flowers. Each year, approximately 7 million flower bulbs are planted and grown, creating a landscape of bright colors and vibrant hues. Keukenhof is located in South Holland in the small town of Lisse, south of Haarlem and southwest of Amsterdam. Famous for its meandering lanes, canals, sculpted garden rows and seemingly endless supply of floral colors, the park draws more than 30 million visitors each year. The best time to view the tulips is from the end of March through early May, depending upon the weather.
